'Children have the Right to Their Mother and Father'

'Kinder haben ein Recht auf Vater und Mutter'

'Violation of Human Rights of Children in Germany' Demonstration on the HUMAN RIGHTS DAY

Where? Strasbourg in front of the European Court of Human Rights

When? Tuesday, Dec, 10th 2002 between 12:00-16:00 h

Why?

Children have the right to the loving contact to their father and mother, their grandparents and close family members. In case of separations, this right is not guaranteed by the state in Germany. Greatest misery is inflicted upon German as well as German-non-German children and parents. Such injustice has to come to an end. Stop Violation of Human Rights done by Germany!

Participants: Fathers, mothers, grandparents, children, family members, non-German parents, whose children were abducted to Germany. Numerous pressure groups support this demonstration¹.

Strasbourg:

Through its legal understanding and decisions, the court building is a visible symbol for the protection of Human Rights of children, parents, grandparents and close family members.

An original piece of the 'Berlin Wall' is located in the inner courtyard. This wall is a symbol for the violation of Human Rights, caused by the painful separation of human beings and families. We therefore demonstrate there on the Human Rights Day.
